

Top Five Reasons to “Try” NaNoTRYmo

by Deb Courtney

1. Whatever your goal, daily writing creates excellent habits for writers...write something every day for a month and you will find it easier to write something every day for a year.
2. Participating in Pikes Peak Writers events builds writing community and accountability.
3. Where else will you find coaches ready to assist you through the tough spots?
4. The feeling of completing your writing goal, whatever it is, is unparalleled and will motivate you further.
5. Because writers write!

Originally appeared in The Pikes Peak Writer, Volume VIII, Issue 6, November, December 2009